Reaching Your Goals Through Teamwork

CPE Credits: 1.5 | CPE Type: Personal Development | Level: Basic | Prerequisites: None | Course SU2501

Gary Adams, Executive Vice President, First Collection Services

Program Content:

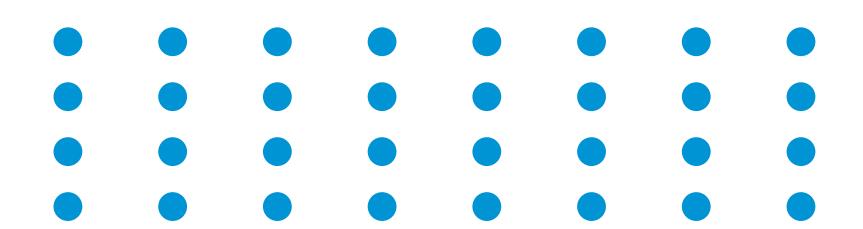

This presentation will include 55 years of experience with the same team in the Business world and then the benefits and experience of playing junior high, high school, college and professional football. It makes no difference what business or profession one is in. Nothing can be accomplished alone. It takes teamwork to be successful at anything we do in life.

Learning objectives:

- This is a teamwork story. Where making sure you have a solid team working toward the same goals is the objective.
- Shared goals and working together as one team lead to achieving winning results.

Speaker Bio:

Gary Adams was born in a small farmhouse 7 miles outside of Piggott, Arkansas. He was the youngest of four children and the only boy. In high school, he played football, basketball, baseball, and ran track. After his senior year, he was offered a scholarship by Coach Frank Broyles to play football for the Arkansas Razorbacks. He played left cornerback for three years and was named defensive captain in his senior season. Gary was a three-time All-Southwest Conference first-team defensive back and punt returner, and he was voted Southwest Conference Sophomore Defensive Player of the Year in 1966. He led the Southwest Conference in interceptions that season with 7 and was named Honorable Mention All-American. He finished his career as the leading interceptor for the Razorbacks with 13 and is second only to Steve Atwater's 14. Not only did Gary play football, but he also ran track at Arkansas. His senior season was the year Arkansas finished 10-1 and beat Georgia 16-2 in the Sugar Bowl. After the Sugar Bowl game, Gary played in the All-American Bowl game in Tampa, Florida, coached by the legendary Coach Bear Bryant. In 1969, he was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles. However, his career was cut short when he came in contact with Larry Csonka, a 6'3", 240-pound fullback with the Miami Dolphins. In 2011, he was inducted into the Arkansas Razorbacks Sports Hall of Honor and the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame in 2019. In November 1970, he began working in sales at First Collection Services in Little Rock, Arkansas. At that time, the company had four employees. Today, First Collection Services has over 300 employees, specializing in third-party collections and first-party back office and front office support. Gary has been Executive Vice President for over 40 years. He loves to compete on the golf course and often shoots his age. He plays golf on many Saturday mornings and Sunday afternoons after church. He has been married to Gail Adams for almost 54 years and has three daughters, six grandsons, and four granddaughters. He and Gail make their home in Little Rock, Arkansas, and attend Chenal Valley Church of Christ in Little Rock.

Maximizing Labor Productivity: Strategies for Effective Workforce Management

CPE Credits: 1.5 | CPE Type: Specialized Knowledge | Level: Basic | Prerequisites: None | Course SU2503

Neal Peterson, National Sales Consultant,
The Craneware Group

Program Content:

The costs associated with labor are the single largest expense for any healthcare organization. In this session we will show you how to use real-time data analytics to more effectively plan and manage your workforce for improved patient care, employee satisfaction, and profitability.

Learning objectives:

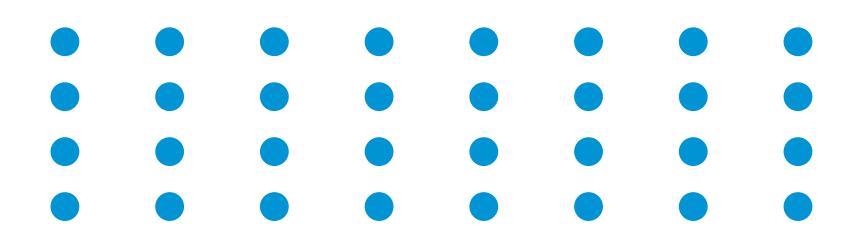

- Assess the true impact of labor shortages on your operations.
- Create patient-centric staffing strategies in half the time.
- Increase patient and employee satisfaction by improving productivity in the delivery of patient care.
- Effectively manage agency staff and contractors with real-time data analytics.

Speaker Bio:

With over 20 years of experience in healthcare finance, Neal Peterson is a recognized expert in helping hospitals optimize margins and profitability. In recent years, Neal has specialized in guiding healthcare providers to better understand their true costs and profitability through activity-based costing. His approach moves beyond traditional methods like Ratio of Cost to Charges or Relative Value Units, delivering real cost insights that drive impactful decision-making.

Neal's expertise spans addressing physician variation (a common 1–2% annual loss of operating expenses), navigating value-based contracts, and improving service line management. By leveraging cloud-based "costing as a service" solutions, Neal empowers organizations to focus on actionable insights rather than data crunching, ensuring a faster return on investment and meaningful improvements in financial performance.

Dedicated to delivering speed to value, Neal's work enables healthcare organizations to truly understand their operations and thrive in an ever-evolving landscape.

Pricing Transparency – Act Now, Save Later

CPE Credits: 1.5 | CPE Type: Specialized Knowledge | Level: Basic | Prerequisites: None | Course SU2504

Ryan Breneman, Stroudwater Associates

Program Content:

This presentation will cover the important keys to understanding around price transparency, The No Surprises Act, machine-readable file requirements, and how hospitals can prepare themselves to meet these requirements. Additional topics will include how to handle any type of CMS violations that are received, and the best practices to maintain compliance in a rapidly changing environment.

Learning objectives:

- Define the critical requirements for compliance to price transparency, including both shoppable services and machine-readable file expectations.
- Identify online tools for assistance, including the machine-readable file validator tool.
- Learn the required shoppable services and strategies for populating the remaining services to meet the required 300.
- Learn the next steps to take if a CMS violation or corrective action plan has been put in place.

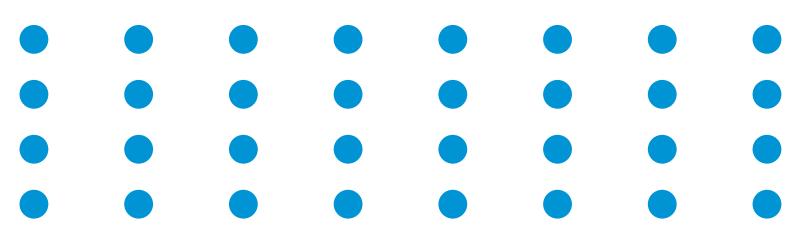

Speaker Bio:

Dr. Ryan Breneman is an empathetic thought leader with over 20 years of experience in the revenue cycle space, working with hospitals, ambulatory surgery centers, and physicians to maximize reimbursement and improve overall revenue cycle management functions. Ryan was drawn to healthcare by the ability to combine analytic and human elements, blending data-driven decision-making with the compassionate aspect of working with others. He is passionate about streamlining processes and finding creative solutions to the complexities within the healthcare space. He brings to each client engagement his ability to analyze complex problems, develop and simplify procedures, and create innovative solutions in all aspects of the revenue cycle.

Ryan earned his Doctor of Business Administration and his MBA from Trevecca Nazarene University in Nashville, TN. He holds a BS in psychology from Trevecca Nazarene University. In 2019, he received his Lean Six Sigma Green Belt. his areas of focus are:

- RCM performance benchmarks and key performance indicators (KPI)
- Accounts receivable management
- Process Improvement and productivity metrics
- Process and technology evaluation

Prior to joining Stroudwater, Ryan served as VP of Revenue Cycle Management (RCM) for a national laboratory organization, leading a team of over 150 employees through all reimbursement activities. During this time, he helped create department-wide KPI dashboards to drive results as well as directing improvements through robotic process automation (RPA). He has also served as Director of Business Operations for a healthcare services organization, focusing on ASC and cancer center revenue optimization.

Key Strategies to Mitigate the Impact of Rising Costs

CPE Credits: 1.5 | CPE Type: Specialized Knowledge | Level: Basic | Prerequisites: None | Course SU2505

Mark Rafalski, Director, Forvis Mazars

Program Content:

In the current economic climate, healthcare organizations face significant challenges due to rising costs of equipment and supplies. Recent events, including global supply chain disruptions and increased tariffs, have exacerbated these issues, making it crucial for organizations to adopt effective strategies to manage and mitigate these impacts.

Invest in cost savings initiatives: The first key action involves investing in initiatives aimed at reducing costs. This includes identifying specific areas where savings can be achieved, such as medical/surgical supplies and purchased services. Organizations should pursue these targets through detailed analysis and strategic planning. Effective negotiation strategies are essential to secure favorable terms with suppliers, ensuring that cost reductions are realized without compromising quality.

Collaborate: Collaboration is vital for achieving cost savings. Internal stakeholders must be engaged and committed to the goals of the organization. This involves fostering a culture of participation and improvement, where everyone is aligned with the cost-saving objectives. Additionally, working closely with vendors is crucial. By building strong relationships and partnerships, organizations can leverage vendor expertise and resources to identify and implement savings opportunities.

Control: The final key action is controlling costs through rigorous measurement and monitoring. Performance metrics should be established to track progress towards cost-saving goals. Regular reporting and communication with internal stakeholders ensure that everyone is aware of the organization's performance and any adjustments needed. Holding vendors accountable is also critical; they must be monitored to ensure they are delivering on their commitments and contributing to the organization's cost-saving efforts.

By focusing on these three key actions—invest, collaborate, and control—healthcare organizations can effectively mitigate the impact of rising costs and enhance their financial performance. These strategies not only help manage current challenges but also position organizations for long-term sustainability and success.

Learning objectives:

- Understanding of how recent events have impacted and are expected to impact the cost structures of health care organizations.
- Gain an understanding of the elements that make up a what a vendor charges including direct cost, overhead and profit margin.
- Learn several key elements necessary for successful negotiations with vendors.
- Understanding of key elements required to help monitor, maintain and improve upon savings.

Speaker Bio:

A member of Forvis Mazars' Healthcare Performance Improvement Services division, Mark has more than 38 years of experience, including more than 25 years with hospitals and health systems. Mark possesses extensive expertise in finance and operations, having served as both a chief financial officer and chief operating officer within a multihospital system. His experience includes working with health systems on the acquisition and management of physician practices and surgery centers. Additionally, Mark's areas of practice encompass strategic planning, operational and service line performance, financial improvement, and cash flow management. Currently, Mark focuses on identifying non-labor margin improvement opportunities, helping numerous clients achieve savings in areas such as medical/surgical supplies, implants, purchased services, and finance programs. Mark is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and an active member of several professional organizations, including the Healthcare Financial Management Association, the Association for Healthcare Resources & Materials Management, and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

This session explores an insightful session as we discuss ethics. Topics will include why we learn about ethics, where our ethics come from, using a code of ethics, solving ethical dilemmas, and working with the Code of Ethics Implementation Guide from the Institute of Internal Auditors (IIA). We'll also use an interactive case study and explore rationalization, bias, and other moral topics.

Learning objectives:

- Identify where our ethics come from.
- Recognize ethical dilemmas.
- Use the IIA's Code of Ethics Implementation Guide.
- Apply lessons learned from the Wells Fargo case study.

Speaker Bio:

Brandy joins Forvis Mazars with more than 16 years of professional experience in auditing with a focus on SEC/PCAOB clients. She has experience with retail/consumer products (both public and private); employee benefits plans; implementing new guidance, e.g., ASC 842 - Leases and ASC 606 - Revenue Recognition; mergers/acquisitions; Foreign Compliance Practices Act compliance; and designing/implementing internal control over financial reporting. In addition to her extensive experience in auditing, she has experience in reporting for ESG, including green bond reporting. Prior to joining Forvis Mazars, she spent 16 years at an international firm in Rogers, Arkansas, serving large, multinational public clients. Brandy is a member of the American Institute of CPAs and Arkansas Society of Certified Public Accountants. She received the Young Alumni award from the University of Arkansas Alumni Association in 2013 and the Outstanding Alumni Award from the Sam M. Walton College of Business – Accounting Department in 2016. Brandy and her husband also established the Erik and Brandy Tuft Advance Arkansas Endowed Scholarship in 2019 and both served as co-chairs for the Chancellor's Society from 2019 through 2021. She serves as the chair of the Accounting and Advisory Committee for the University of Arkansas. She also serves on the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society Executive Advisory Board and the Rogers/Lowell Chamber of Commerce Board including the Audit Committee. Lastly, Brandy serves as treasurer for her daughter's school (Eastside Elementary) and is the incoming treasurer for Rogers District PTO (2023 through 2024). Brandy is a 2006 graduate of Sam M. Walton College of Business at University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, with a B.S.B.A. degree in accounting.

Brandon is a member of the Forvis Mazars' Arkansas practice unit based in the Rogers office. He has several years of experience providing audit services to a variety of healthcare clients, ranging from small standalone hospitals to regional health systems. He also assists in providing reimbursement and other consulting services to healthcare entities. Brandon is a member of the American Institute of CPAs, Arkansas Society of CPAs, and the Arkansas Chapter of the Healthcare Financial Management Association, where he serves as a co-chair for the board's CPE coordinator. Brandon volunteers at fundraising events for the Children's Protection Center, a non-profit child advocacy and safety center; Junior Achievement of Arkansas, a non-profit organization dedicated to giving young people knowledge and skills to own their economic success and plan for their futures; and Ronald McDonald House Charities of Arkansas, a non-profit organization that provides compassionate support for families and children who are ill or injured. Brandon is a graduate of the University of Central Arkansas, Conway, Arkansas, with a B.S. degree in accounting.

Preyed On: How Insurance Corporations Are Bleeding America's Hospitals

CPE Credits: 1.5 | CPE Type: Specialized Knowledge | Level: Basic | Prerequisites: None | Course SU2509

Mark Craig, CEO, Write-Off Warrior

Program Content:

Corporate insurers—especially those operating Medicare Advantage plans—are draining hospitals through a calculated mix of delayed payments, excessive denials, and manipulative reimbursement schemes. In this powerful keynote, nationally recognized healthcare advocate Mark Craig brings together frontline accounts, revealing data, and in-depth policy analysis to expose how insurance corporations are quietly destabilizing America's hospitals.

Drawing from his investigative work and real-world experience with hospitals across the country, Mark reveals how these practices are accelerating closures, threatening the independence of community health systems, and forcing providers to absorb unsustainable administrative burdens—all while insurers post record profits. But this presentation is not just a diagnosis—it's a battle plan. Mark shares actionable strategies hospitals can use today to reclaim revenue and hold insurers accountable.

Attendees will also gain tools to educate lawmakers, engage community allies, and advocate for systemic reforms that restore accountability, fairness, and transparency to our healthcare system. This is more than a policy discussion—it's a roadmap for reclaiming control from corporate insurers and ensuring that healthcare decisions remain where they belong: with clinicians and communities, not shareholders.

Learning objectives:

- Identify the most common insurer tactics—such as delays, denials, and downcoding—that drive hospital revenue loss, particularly under Medicare Advantage plans.
- Analyze the systemic impact of payer abuse on hospital sustainability, clinician autonomy, and rural health system independence using data and real-world case studies.
- Apply practical tools such as payer scorecards, denial pattern tracking, and contract audits to pinpoint underpayments and reclaim revenue.
- Implement strategies to strengthen appeal processes, leverage prompt payment laws, and escalate payer disputes effectively within your revenue cycle teams.
- Advocate for broader policy reforms by engaging lawmakers, educating patients, and building community support to hold insurers accountable and protect provider access.

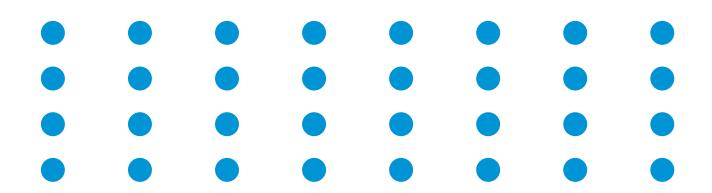

Speaker Bio:

Mark Craig is a nationally recognized healthcare advocate, author, and revenue cycle expert with over 20 years of experience helping hospitals navigate complex reimbursement challenges. He is the CEO and co-founder of Revenue Cycle Associates and Write-Off Warrior Inc., where he partners with hospitals across the country to recover lost revenue and reduce unnecessary write-offs.

Mark authored Preyed On: How Insurance Corporations Are Bleeding America's Hospitals and Communities to Death, an investigative report exposing the abusive practices of insurers—especially Medicare Advantage plans—and their impact on patient care and hospital sustainability.

His policy work has been featured in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution, and he regularly collaborates with lawmakers, rural health associations, and advocacy groups to strengthen payer accountability and restore fairness in healthcare financing.
