AHA CONNECTIVITY CONSORTIUM

Randy Reznik
720-924-8181
www.fedfunding.net

The Arkansas Hospital Association's Connectivity Consortium was established with a mission to assist hospitals achieve maximum subsidies under the FCC's Healthcare Connect Fund. These federal funds come back to hospitals through their broadband expenditures, if they're applied for. The role of the consortium is to educate hospitals about the program, and to help them achieve these funds annually. The use of a consortium provides advantages in the program and helps hospitals with a funding advantage. In addition, the AHA Connectivity Consortium's methods of hospital education, vendor engagement, community engagement and our annual checkups with each hospital ensure that over time our mission of each healthcare provider achieving maximum subsidy under the program every year is realized. These funds are widely underutilized, and your Connectivity Consortium can easily show you your hospital's data and if there is more funding available for you.
